

To All at The Poundbury Surgery

Thank you so much for your devotion and dedication to ensuring the medical needs of others are still being met especially during these difficult and testing times.

You are the real life super heroes of the modern world and may the public continue to appreciate you when this awful situation is over and return to some kind of normality.

Please stay safe, take care and huge thanks for keeping the nation as safe as is possible before, during and after this pandemic no matter what role you play within the NHS.

Many Thanks

Sarah Powell
